What Is the Flexible Major Program?

The Flexible Major Program allows students to enter university without choosing a specific major.

During their first year, they explore a wide variety of academic disciplines. Then, in their second year, they choose a major that best matches their personal interests and strengths.

Opportunities for Career Exploration

Students who are unsure of their future path after high school can take courses in a variety of fields, helping them discover where their true interests lie.

Choose Your Major in the Second Year

After completing their first year, students select the major they want and officially join that department. From then on, they take specialized courses and graduate with that major.

Flexible, Interdisciplinary Learning

Not limited to a single major—students may freely pursue double majors or interdisciplinary programs. This enables them to design a future-focused academic journey that reflects their goals.

Recommended For Students Who

- ☐ Didn't choose a clear career path in high school
- ☐ Want to experience diverse academic fields before making a decision
- ☐ Are interested in designing a personalized major that blends multiple disciplines
